Asking Prayers on the Drop.

Criminals, especially great ones, when standing on the drop, and about to be swung off, usually make some sort of a speech or confession, and almost always ask for the prayers of better men. The rebel General BRAGG, similarly situated, has asked for "the prayers of all Christians for himself and army." However imperious this is, it is perfectly natural. The Houston (Texas) Telegraph speaks of the deeply religious tone, and the turning to Divine Providence for help in the present extremity of the rebellion.

While it is commendable that men should do this thing, the proof of sincerity is to be found in the fact that they cease to transgress. It confounds all ideas of supplications for Divine aid and mercy, that intelligent men should pray for it, while they persist in the iniquity of which they pray to be saved the consequences. BRAGG is no better than a great criminal on the drop, and probably has very much the same feeling. The attempt to destroy the Government and set up the slave power, will ever be looked upon as the great sin and crime of the age. It is not merely a political but a moral offense,—a scheme, for the success of which we believe it to be impious to pray to God. But it is the poor privilege of the rebel leaders, standing on the drop, to do it,—and that they do thus prostrate themselves is proof, as with all culprits, that they conceive their end to be at hand.

GENERAL BUTLER.—The New York Herald's Washington special says that Major General Butler has been removed by the President from the command of the Army of the James, and the Department of Virginia and North Carolina, and been ordered to report at Lowell, Mass. Major General Ord, lately in charge of the corps, is said to have temporarily succeeded to the command.

UNEMPLOYED GENERALS.—The Senate has very wisely killed the bill passed by the House, dismissing unemployed Generals. Mr. SCHENCK will have to try again to get out of office certain Generals not likely to be dismissed at once.

PETROLEUM.

Annual Review of the Trade—Exportation for Three Years—Average Price for 1863-64—Interesting Statistics.

The New York Shipping and Commercial List, in an elaborate annual review of the Petroleum market and trade, says that this article of commerce has become of such universal interest, and so important an article of export, that the fluctuations of gold have a marked effect upon it, and more or less influence prices. Prices of descriptions were comparatively low at the commencement of the year, (gold then 152), but, about the 8th of July, when gold reached 280, the excitement ran high, and the prices attained to the highest point; and, with the fall of gold, prices receded. In the time of the excitement referred to, crude sold, for September delivery, at 58 cents, and at the close of the month, when the contracts expired, the quotation was 38½@39—gold, 185. The receipts during the year, at this point, were about the same at 1863, while the exports show a large increase. As to the prospect for future supply, we cannot see how there can be any diminution, and, if one-fourth of the organized companies strike oil, there will be no doubt of a considerable increase in the production. The companies, and their name is legion, that propose operating in Pennsylvania, Ohio and Virginia, but few can be expected to yield anything. Some of the old companies, and perhaps some of the new, have been very profitable to their owners, and many of the owners of farms in the oil regions have realized large fortunes by their sale.

From the developments made and making, it would seem that the supply of oil was inexhaustible. Extensive preparations have been made for boring in many new and promising localities, and if anything like the promise is realized the supply of the world must be greatly increased. Many merchants and bankers, and many millions of capital, have gone into this new business, and if respectable and responsible names were all that was needed to make them profitable, most of the new companies would be found paying. Among the new openings are those of Ohio and West Virginia; there are also wells in New York and Kentucy, and Southern California has recently put in her claims as a producer.

When the affairs of the nation shall have become settled, New Orleans must become one of the largest marts for petroleum in this country.

The export table will show how extensively the article has been taken by foreign countries, while in our own country it may be said to be driving all other illuminators out of use. Naptha, owing to the fact that Turpentine has been in fair supply, has not come into so general use as was anticipated. Residum or tar, another product of Petroleum, though considered at first nearly worthless, has been put to good account. An excellent lubricator for machinery, having been distilled therefrom, answering all the purposes of sperm oil.

The following table, though possibly not entirely correct, may be found sufficiently so to furnish some guide to those interested:

Gold Quotations for 1863 and 1864.

We give below the highest and lowest quotation for Gold during each month in 1863 and 1864. The highest point in 1864 (280) was reached on the 1st of July, when, upon the repeal of the Gold bill, it immediately declined to 230½, rising again on the 11th to 284½, and again rapidly receding to 244½, the middle of the month. The greatest variations were in June, July and September:

Monongahela Valley Oil Region.

A Trip up the Monongahela—Wealth of the Valley—The Slackwater Company—The Oil Wells in Fayette and Greene Counties.

A correspondent of the Philadelphia Press recently paid a visit to the oil regions of Greene and Fayette counties, which he thus describes in a letter dated Pittsburgh:

I arrived in the "Smoky City" in time to take the Monongahela boat for the New Petrolea now rising into notice in Greene and Fayette counties, near the Virginia line. I confess I was a stranger to the interest which this valley is calculated to awaken in the visitor. From the time of our departure from the Pittsburgh wharf, I was constantly reminded of the wealth and importance of this comparatively unnoticed portion of the country. Manufacturing in its various departments extends along the banks, showing everywhere the most cheering activity. Industry is the salient characteristic of the population. The idlers appear to be few.

The river, without an island, runs through its whole course among hills skirted with rich bottoms. These pleasantly alternate from side to side with the meanders of the stream. Agriculturally the whole valley will vie in richness with any portion of Pennsylvania, but its mineral wealth constitutes its prominent distinction. In the vicinity of Pittsburgh the coal lies near the top of the hills, and is run down to the boats by an automatic arrangement of cars and tram-ways, the full descending car drawing up to the mouth of the mine the empty one. Mining the coal here, as you are probably aware, is always by the adit, and never by the shaft. Boring has frequently demonstrated the existence of rich veins of coal beneath the water level, and shafting will, probably, be eventually resorted to but the supply above ground will probably prove inexhaustible for centuries. As we ascend the river the chief coal vein, averaging more than nine feet in thickness, dips rapidly towards the water, till a mile below Brownsville it is submerged when the stream is at flood. It then rises again fifty feet or more in the hills in the vicinity of that town, and in the main, though at one or two points above Brownsville dipping below the river, it so continues beyond the State line. The coal interest gives employment to a vast number of operatives, and to an annually increasing fleet of flat boats, barges, tugs, and steamers. In 1845 the number of tons taken to market did not exceed one hundred thousand; now, in 1864, it amounts to two millions. The market extends from Pittsburgh to New Orleans, and the time is not far distant when the coal trade of this valley will equal that of the Lehigh or the Schuylkill. Darby, the historian and geographer, a native of this region, pronounced the valley of the Monongahela the richest district of country in the world. This was the first settled country west of the Alleghenies, and originally the recipient of a sturdy and intelligent population, it has ever since maintained a character for industry and enterprise. Boat building for the whole valley of the Mississippi has been done largely upon the banks of this river, and many a steamboat man starting hence to the rivers of the west and south has there gathered wealth with which to return and make himself comfortable among his native hills. The abundance of fine white oak timber in this country gives it special advantages for the construction of vessels.

Apart from the utilitarian view of the Monongahela Valley, it presents much to interest in its natural beauty and by historical associations. The hills are studded with their primeval growth of forest, or trimly cleared, and smiling under the hand of the cultivator. At Braddock's Field, eight miles above Pittsburgh, is still pointed out to the traveler the scene of Washington's first exploit in arms. A short distance above, and almost directly below the dam of the Slack Water Company, of which Hon. J. K. Moorhead is the President, and the completion of which is mainly owing to his energy and enterprise, and which will stand a monument to his fame, is the ford at which the British troops under Braddock made their crossing, and advanced along the bottom on the eastern side, to fall into the ambush of the French and Indians.

Brownsville, on the site of Redstone Old Fort, is a town of about 5,000 people, the place extending chiefly over a romantic bluff some 300 feet above the river. This was the point from which emigration for the West and South, for half a century, first took water. The old National or Cumberland road crosses the river here in its route to Wheeling. In the manufacture of iron and glass, in boat building, and in local trade, the town is one of the most thriving and important in this section of the State.

Thirty miles above Brownsville, or about eighty from Pittsburgh, I arrived at Geneva, close in the vicinity of the oil operations. Preferring to perform the rest of my journey as a cavalier, I obtained a horse at Geneva, and rode over, first to the wells on Dunkard Creek, and next to those on the Whitely. They are all within three or four miles of Geneva. None of these wells have as yet had success sufficient to give them a prominent place on the stock list, but it is to be borne in mind that, although oil was found here to some extent at the outbreak of the war, that event had the effect to suspend operations, and it is only very recently that they have been renewed. For the length of time that they have been worked, and for the capital thus far embarked in the business, the prospects could hardly be more encouraging. More than 3,000 barrels have already been obtained in the few months during which the search has been prosecuted, though none of the borings have yet reached a depth which could be considered as any test of their capacity. The "Wylie Well" has yielded as much as eighty barrels in a single day, but owing to some accident in the working, operations have been suspended upon it for the present. The "Kramer," "St. Clair," and "Pioneer," have all had partial success, abundantly sufficient to encourage the lessees to further efforts. The same may be said of the attempts made on Whitely Creek. The whole business, however, is still in its incipient stage throughout the New Petrolea, yet I am convinced that it presents a field for enterprise which will amply reward the capitalist who may embark in it. From all I have seen and heard, I am of opinion that the indications are quite as encouraging here as they were at first either on the Allegheny or Kanawha. How large a portion of the Monongahela Valley will eventually be found to yield the peculiar product, time alone can determine; but traces of it have from time to time, in boring for salt, been found at widely different localities. Geologically, there is very much of this region which has the petroleum character, and the future will probably develop its existence where it is now little suspected. For the present it is probable that operators will be disposed for the most part to direct their attention to those localities which, while presenting such indications as are considered reliable, are at the same time in closest proximity to the wells in which it has already been found. One thing appears certain, that the whole country has been waked up on the subject.

After leaving the Maple Farm, on the Dunkard, I followed the stream to its mouth, and turned my horse to Geneva by the river road, and as I loitered in my journey, enjoying the fresh December air and sunshine, I found myself opposite the handsome estate which, for many years, was the home of Albert Gallatin, now the property of Hon. John L. Dawson, the Representative of this Congression District. It extends along the Monongahela to the mouth of George's Creek, a mile and a half of distance. It contains, I am told, 550 acres, about half beautiful woodland and in a high state of cultivation. This is regarded as valuable oil territory.

Leaving my horse at a farm house on the western side of the river, I got a boy to row me across in a skiff, and climbed up the steep upheaval bluff to the house. Mr. Dawson being absent in Congress, I was allowed by the family having it in charge to walk about the premises at will. It lies about two and a half miles below the mouth of Cheat river. The situation is beautiful beyond description; the Monongahela, in its beautiful sweep, forming its boundary on the northwest; the valleys of Dunkard and George's Creeks opening up pleasant prospects from either extremity of the river front, and the mountains rising for twenty miles in lovely view to the east. This was the home of Mr. Gallatin for forty years, and as I gazed upon the commodious and stately mansion, I felt inspired with veneration for a spot once visited by Lafayette, and the residence of Mr. Gallatin, so long distinguished in the service of his country.

Having satisfied my curiosity, I returned to the river, and hallooing across for my ferryman, was soon again landed on the other side. Mounting my horse again, I returned to Geneva, which I had left the day before in time to get the afternoon boat for Brownsville. Connecting at that point with the boat for Pittsburgh, I returned here this morning, and now write from the Monongahela House, a most excellently appointed hotel. Q.

The "Crow" Well!

To the Editor of the Commercial:

Who is your anonymous correspondent, "A Subscriber," who is in such agony about the "Crow" Well? Does he know whereof he affirms, or is he animated by a special hostility to oil wells in general, and the "Crow" Well in particular? Can he distinguish the sand-pump from the reamer—the derrick from the tank?

Now, whether the "Crow" yields oil, gas, parapahine or what not, is to the undersigned of no great moment, but the assertion of "A Subscriber," that none of the wells in Greene county are yielding oil save the "Wyley," is sheer humbug! The "Kramer" Well has yielded oil which has been brought to this market, and is now doing so. Such is the case also, as I am informed by a gentleman of veracity, who returned to this city on Saturday, with some half dozen wells in the same locality. True, the yield is not large, but the oil enterprise in Greene county is, as yet, but opening, and not a well has been bored there to any reasonable depth in which oil has not been obtained. The indications and topography of the country are such as to satisfy oil men of experience that the development of the country will prove it equal to any other in richness and capacity. Let "A Subscriber" vent his wrath on the "Crow" as much as he pleases. I would not interfere with your knight errant in such fantastic efforts, but let him not be betrayed by his chivalric zeal into a lack of truth and candor.

Reports from Winchester say that the rebels are busy preparing for the evacuation of Richmond. Much government property and many officials have already been sent off to the interior. Davis has become convinced that he cannot hold the city much longer.

Governor Curtin's recommendation in his message to repeal the General Mining an Manufacturing Law of 1863, does not meet with that favor it was expected it would, and it will be opposed. It has been suggested that an entirely new statute, embracing the meritorious features of the laws of 1854 and 1863, be framed and adopted.

One of the most important State documents presented to the Legislature is the report of Adjutant General Russell. When printed, the volume will be about one-half the thickness of the one last year, the schedule of line officers which appeared in the latter having been this year included in the report of Executive Military Department. A full list, however, of all the State organizations which are now or have been in the service is given, with the original and present commanding officers, and with all the intermediate changes noted. Since April 15th, 1861, 179 regiments of infantry, 23 of cavalry, 6 of artillery and several unattached companies and batteries have been organized and sent to the field. During the year eleven regiments, six of infantry, three of cavalry, and two of artillery, containing in the aggregate 9,807 men, have been organized for three years; six regiments and one battalion of infantry, one unattached white company, and one unattached colored company of infantry, one independent battery, one battalion of artillery and five companies of unattached cavalry, in the aggregate 7,675 men for one hundred days; and thirteen infantry and two artillery regiments, containing 16,904 men in all, for one year.

Overland Mail Robbed by Indians.

Severe Fighting Between Indians and Military.

Stage Station Destroyed.

JULESBURG, Colorado, Jan. 9.

On Saturday morning a party of sixty Indians attacked the Overland Mail express coach, three miles east of here, and robbed the mail express. They attacked a mule train close by, killing one man and wounding another. The troops at the military post here, numbering from fifty to eighty men, having started to the relief of the settlers in the vicinity and drove the Indians to the bluffs, a mile back, where the Indians were reinforced to the number of one thousand five hundred, and in turn drove the troops back to the post. The Indians then entered the stage station in large numbers and after destroying all the furniture and breaking all the windows in the buildings, set them on fire. They destroyed large amounts of telegraph material. A well directed fire of musketry, from the troops, at the post, soon drove them from the station. In a running fight, in the retreat of our troops, thirty-five Indians were killed, including the principal chief. Nineteen soldiers and citizens were killed. A general massacre and destruction of the whites was only prevented by the perseverance and bravery of our troops, and an efficient artillery fire. The Indians retired in a southerly direction. This is, by far, the most determined incursion made by the Indians.

Burning of the Gunboat Rattler.

Fighting in the Vicinity of Mobile.

CAIRO, January 10.

The steamer Magenta, from New Orleans, brings the announcement of the arrival of the steamship Morning Star, with General T. W. Sherman and staff.

The gunboat Rattler drifted ashore, in the late storm, between Vicksburg and Natchez. She was fired by a gang of guerrillas and burned to the waters' edge.

A letter from Mobile, to a citizen in New Orleans says: Fighting was going on in that vicinity on the 31st ult. The rebels were burning cotton a short distance from Natchez on the 29th ult.

The New Orleans cotton market is completely unsettled by the news from N. Y. Middling offered at $1 12½. Sugar quiet at 21¼ for fully fair. Molasses $1 20.

The rebels are said to have burned the Court House during their occupation of Owensboro, Kentucky.

General Grierson's Expedition.

A Force of the Enemy Met.

Five Hundred Prisoners Taken.

Rebel General Halcomb Killed.

Thirty Miles of Railroad Destroyed.

Capture of a Rebel Schooner.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 10.

The Vicksburg Herald, of the 5th, has a full account of Grierson's raid in Mississippi. The expedition left Memphis, on the 21st ultimo, three thousand strong, consisting of the 2d New Jersey, 4th Missouri, 7th Indiana Cavalry, 1st Mississippi Mounted Rifles, 3d and 4th Iowa, 10th Missouri, 2d Wisconsin, 4th and 11th Illinois, and 3d U. S. Colored. At Egypt, on the Mobile and Ohio Railroad, considerable force of the enemy were encountered and a sharp fight ensued, in which quite a number of the enemy were killed and wounded. Five hundred prisoners were taken from the enemy. Brigadier-General Halcomb, commanding, is among the killed. From Egypt, the command struck the westward crossing of the Mississippi Central Railroad below Granada, destroying thirty miles, several locomotives and fifty cars. They also destroyed extensive cloth and shoe factories at Bankston. The expedition brought in a few horses, mules, and about the same number of contrabands. Among the prisoners captured are one Colonel, one Lieutenant Colonel, twenty-five line officers, and a number of our men, who to escape the horrible treatment of our prisoners at Andersonville had joined the rebel army.

On the night of December 26th Ensign Blunes of the steamer Virginia, cut out from Galveston the schooner Dollie, from Nassau, with one hundred and twenty bales of cotton. The schooner, when captured was within five hundred yards of the rebel guard. The ship was close in shore, and protected by shore batteries. She also passed directly under the guns of the two first, on her way out.

Unionism in Savannah.

Overflow of Joy at Sight of the Old Flag

Conduct of the Rebel Soldiery Upon the Evacuation of the City.

The following private letters have been received from Savannah:

SAVANNAH, U. S., Dec. 22, 1864.

MY PRECIOUS SON—Thank God I am once more in the Union, living again under that dear old flag. Oh how I bless General Sherman, and pray that God will bless him too. I have had so much to annoy me, but now all seems bright once more. I feel this morning at least ten years younger than I did last week. I hope to be able soon to write good long letters, and feel that they will not have to be read by the Confederates; and soon I hope there will be no more Confederate States. Oh how I have prayed to see this day and I do not feel grateful beyond expression. Yesterday about daylight the Federal army took possession of the city. I had three Federal officers to breakfast with me—Captain W., Lieutenant W. and Lieutenant F. You may be sure I felt very happy. Captain W. has just been in to call and offer me a guard or any assistance I may desire. Mr. S. did not leave, neither did Mr. H., and many more remained in Savannah that would surprise you to know. The dear old flag is floating and waving all over the city. I made one last week, and yesterday, as I saw a large party of officers crossing, I held the flag out of the window, and they all took off their hats to me. Give Mr. D. our kind regards, and say how glad we are to be once more in the United States.

General Sherman has just arrived, and I am very anxious to see him. Oh, what a terrible night it was when the military (Confederates) gave up this city to Mayor Arnold. The soldiers broke open all the stores both in this street and others throughout the city. It was a terrible time. I almost grew grey. I never suffered such fear in my life; but we were not at all disturbed, and did not lose anything. Mary P—— wrote, begging me to take everything and go up to Macon. How glad I am I did not go. I could not live another year in the Confederacy. I was obliged to hear so much that was disagreeable it made me very unhappy. Three of the officers have promised to dine with us on Christmas. I hope this summer will find us all together once more. I so long to see you all, but as yet we don't know what will be done. We may be ordered to leave here, and if so you may be sure where I will go.

SAVANNAH, CHRISTMAS NIGHT—7:30 P. M.

MY DARLING SISTER—I must write, if only a short letter, to tell you how very, very happy I feel. I have so many calls I find but little time for anything but to entertain company. To-day we had a glorious dinner. I suppose you wonder what we could have. I will tell you. I bought two pair of turkeys a few days since, for which I paid $85 a pair. I had two of these roasted, a splended chicken pie, cold slaw, celery, sweet potatoes, turnips, champagne, apple pie, pumpkin pie, oranges, peacan nuts, &c.; so you see we did very well, considering. But if I had not had plenty of Confederate bills to pay for all I would have been rather hard up for a Christmas dinner. When I heard that General Sherman said he would eat his Christmas dinner in Savannah, I felt sure he would, and I commenced to buy up all I could. There were many here who did not believe he would come, and made no preparation. The country all around is bare; between the two armies there is nothing left, and we will be obliged to depend upon the North for a time. But I feel so glad to be once more in the Union. You cannot believe how miserably unhappy I have been, being separated from you all. Cannot you and W. run out here, just for a trip? How glad we would be to see you both. I told you I would go North this Summer. I feel as though I could not put off my trip long.

Next door to me is quartered a portion of the Twentieth corps, New York Volunteers. They are so delighted to hear that I am from New York that my kitchen is just filled all the time with them. Sarah takes great delight in making coffee for them, and doing for them what we can. I have a picket walking up and down before my door all day and night to guard me, and they take the best of care of me; and, only think, I have made the first flag. The Second division met with an accident; their brigade flag fell in the fire and they had no flag when they came here. Each division has a flag—First, red star; Second, white star, and Third, blue. So I made the bonnie blue flag, with the single white star, and there is not one of the men but knows it, and seems perfectly delighted. S. says he believes I am the happiest woman in Savannah. It is glorious, my dear sister, to be free once more and feel that I will soon be with you all, to stay just as long as I please.

This morning I went to St. John's church. Mr. McRea preached. He did not read the prayer for the President of the United States, but will next Sunday. All the churches were open to-day, except Christ's church. The Bishop left. I hope it will be open on Sunday, for I shall take great pleasure in seeing a Union man in the pulpit. The Bishop sent off his assistant before he left. What fools some people have been; they will see their folly when too late, I fear. Last evening Major F. called on me; he was delighted to see me, and I him. Invited him to dine with us; but could not, as his duty called him away. Said he expected to be in New York in January. I find I have a great many friends, and I can assure you it is very pleasant after having been so long alone. General Sherman is to review the troops to-day, and I feel quite anxious to witness it. To-day Major D. called. I met him in Washington, when I came here two years ago. He is on General Barry's staff. I have so much to tell you all I am nearly beside myself with joy. Last evening I sent General Sherman a Christmas present. May God bless him; for he has brought more joy to my heart than has been there for many a long day. Mr. D. and Mr. R. called to-day to see me. I told them I feel so happy I hardly knew what to do with myself. May God bless you all, is the desire of your loving sister.

Ft. Smith and Van Buren Evacuated

Remnant of Price's Army at Bogg's Depot.

Country Full of Deserters.

ST. LOUIS, January 10.

Fort Smith, Ark., advices, of the 27th, confirm the reported evacuation of that post and Van Buren, and the probable participation of the garrison in some movement south, leaving that part of the country, and it was feared Fort Smith and Van Buren would be destroyed. Lieutenant Wilcox, of the Chickasaw Battalion, had an interview with General Thayer on the 26th, under a flag of truce. The reported object of his visit was to negotiate terms for the surrender of his battalion to the Union forces.

The remnant of Price's army is at Boggy Depot, Red River. Desertions are very numerous and the whole country is filled with stragglers.

The Peace Rumors Unfounded.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.

The present speculations about peace movements, both in loyal and rebel newspapers, rest on a weak foundation. It is safe to say that no person, either authorized or unauthorized, has lately left Washington for the front on an errand of peace or with a view to consult the rebel authorities concerning existing difficulties.

Major George Abbott has been reinstated as Provost Marshal of the 12th District of Illinois.

SECOND EDITION.

4 O'CLOCK, A. M.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Savannah to be a Port of Entry.

Wholesale Desertions from Lee's Army

Re-organization of Naval Pay Department.

Important Telegraph Grant.

Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Commercial.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.

In compliance with the request of the loyal citizens of Savannah, that city will probably be declared a port of entry and thrown open to commerce as soon as the obstructions in its waters and approaches are removed.

During the last five days three hundred and eighty-seven deserters from Lee's army have come into General Grant's lines. The majority of them were Georgians, Tennesseeans and North Carolinians. Eighteen men were executed at Petersburg in one day, last week, for attempting to desert through our lines. Thousands are deterred from coming over on account of the extreme rigor of the rebel authorities in this respect. Cases of attempted desertion are tried by a drum-head court-martial and instant death is the punishment inflicted.

Grimes' bill for the better reorganization of the pay department of the navy, makes the pay corps consist of one hundred paymasters, twenty passed assistant paymasters and fifty assistant paymasters, promotions to the higher grades to follow successful examinations. Passed assistant paymasters are required to give bonds in the sum of fifteen thousand dollars and are allowed fifteen hundred dollars on sea duty and fourteen hundred on other duty and eleven hundred when on leave. Fraud or attempted speculation is made punishable by heavy fine and imprisonment.

Mr. Foot, of Vermont, to-day introduced in the Senate a bill to aid in the construction of a telegraphic line from St. Cloud, Minn., to the British possessions in Canada. The bill allows the Northwestern Telegraph Company to extend one of their main lines from St. Paul, by route of the Pacific Railroad to St. Cloud, and from thence to the Southern boundary of the British possessions, at or near Pembina, then to connect with the line of the Hudson Bay Company; to be extended thence to the Pacific, at or near Victoria, thus making a continuous line by this general route from Lake Michigan, via Lacrosse, St. Paul, St. Cloud, and Pembina, to the Pacific ocean. The bill grants one section of land for every telegraph station along the line, not exceeding one station for every fifteen miles.

Missouri Constitutional Convention

Immediate Emancipation Question

Referred to a Committee.

Evacuation of Fort Smith Contradicted

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 10.

Three resolutions on immediate emancipation were introduced in the Convention yesterday, but, after discussion, were informally laid aside to allow Mr. Drake, of St. Louis, to introduce his resolution for the appointment of eleven commissioners to whom should be referred the different articles of the present State Constitution. After a feeble debate this resolution was adopted, and this morning the President appointed the Commissioners; and one of Boundaries, Legislation, Executive Department, Judicial Department, Education, Internal Improvement, Banks, Militia, Seat of Government, mode of amending the Constitution, and miscellaneous provisions. Each of these Committees are to carefully examine the parts of the present Constitution referred to them respectively, and report to the Convention such amendments thereto as they may consider expedient.

Mr. Drake, of St. Louis, is Chairman of the Committee on Legislation; Judge Clover, St. Louis, Judicial Department; Mr. Gilstrap, mode of amending the Constitution. In addition to these, a Committee of Emancipation was appointed, to whom all resolutions, ordinances and bills on that subject will be referred, with instructions to report to-morrow; and another on Election Franchise and Disfranchisement of Rebels.

Colonel Krekel, President of the Constitutional Convention, has been appointed Judge of the United States District Court for the Western District of Missouri, vice Judge Wells, deceased.

Late advices from Fort Smith say that the troops have not yet left that post, and will be required to remain there to protect Government stores until the Arkansas River is again so they can be removed. In the meantime, it is believed the President will revoke the order of evacuation.

Trade With Savannah.

DESTITUTION IN THE CITY.

Nearly 20,000 Persons Fed by Our Army.

NEW YORK, January 10.

Several parties desiring to ship cargoes to Savannah for trade, the Secretary of the Treasury has ordered that no clearance shall be granted for shipments on private account without special authority from the Treasury Department. Dr. Willis, of Savannah, has obtained permission to make a small shipment of provisions to that city. It was granted on condition that all concerned in the shipment shall take the oath of allegiance, and that none of the articles shipped shall be used to give aid and comfort to the insurgents.

A letter from Beaufort says the people of Savannah are destitute, and that our military officers feed from 15,000 to 20,000 persons.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 10.

A meeting of citizens to devise means for the relief of the inhabitants of Savannah was held at the Board of Trade rooms this afternoon. The Right Rev. Bishop Potter was called to the chair.

FROM HAVANNA.

Spaniards Making Poor Progress.

The News from the United States Satisfactory.

NEW YORK, January 10.

By the steamer Liberty, we have Havanna dates of the 4th, but little news from any quarter had reached Havanna since last advices.

Accounts from San Domingo, though containing nothing new, represent the Spaniards as making very poor progress, and the general opinion is that Spain ought to abandon the attempted conquest of the island. The same may be said of the French attempt in Mexico. Both Spain in San Domingo and France in Mexico are less near the ends of their projected conquests than a year ago. The glorious news from the United States, received in Havanna lately, continues to make converts to the Union cause.

The Confederacy to be Recognized.

Napoleon Will Do It After March 4th.

Gen. Sherman on the Slave Question.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.

The Tribune's Montreal letter says George N. Sanders has a letter from Dudley Mann, at Paris, saying that Napoleon had determined, either with or without the cooperation of Great Britain, to recognize the Confederacy soon after the reinstallment of Mr. Lincoln.

Col. Every, bearer of dispatches from Gen. Sherman, authorizes the contradiction of the report in Richmond papers that Gen. Sherman has recently given assurance that the war will not change the status of slaves, and that he will not allow interference on the part of the army in the relation between master and slave. He would gladly incorporate 50,000 negroes into his army, and has already taken measures to organize all able bodied slaves who came into Savannah with him.

ABANDONED AT SEA.

SANDY HOOK, January 10.

The ship Bridgewater, Capt. Sisson, arrived off Sandy Hook this morning, after a passage of sixty days from Liverpool. She has on board the crew of the bark Mattie Metcalf, of New York, from Philadelphia to Boston. The bark was abandoned at sea.

The Blair Richmond Mission.

"No Good Can Possibly Come of It."

Thomas Contemplating a Movement Similar to Sherman's.

The Removal of Gen. Butler.

Jeff. Davis and Gov. Clark.

Proceedings of the Rebel Congress.

NEW YORK, January 10.

Nearly all the papers to-day have editorials on Blair's visit to Richmond. The Tribune has no expectation as to the immediate result of the mission. Blair does not go with power to make peace. It thinks the end of the mission will be partially gained if the rebels insist on terms utterly inadmissable.

The World thinks there is no prospect that Blair's mission will open the way to responsible negotiations. It does not look for it until the emancipation experiment in the South has been tried, and brings foreign intervention on condition of freeing the slaves. It says in judging of the probabilities of peace, we use our own credulity, unless we look at the matter from a Southern stand point. The South has no more to gain by further resistance than by immediate submission, and therefore, it is idle to look for peace.

The Times hopes the report that Blair has gone to Richmond is not true, and says: "No good can possibly come of the mission. The Government has thus far dealt with rebels only and therefore only their State can deal with the General Government in a movement for peace. It is useless to attempt to convince Davis of the folly of the rebellion, until it is understood by the Southern people."

The Post calls Blair's mission a fool's errand, and thinks peace is quite near, and will come from the Southern States and people. It says: "The mission to Richmond will enable the rebel leaders to tell their people that the United States are weary of the war and anxious for a cessation of hostilies." It considers Grant, Sherman, Sheridan, Thomas and Farragut the best and surest peace makers.

Generals Hancock, Burnside and Averill are now in the city.

The Tribune publishes a letter from Rock Island denying the recent charge of bad treatment of rebel prisoners there. It says the prisoners fare is exactly like that of our own soldiers.

The Times editorially thinks Thomas will probably make a march southward, from Florence through to Alabama and Mississippi, similar to Sherman's through Georgia, and looks upon Montgomery and Mobile as the objective points of the campaign.

The Commercial Advertiser has an editorial on the removal of General Butler, and reviews his military career on James river and at Fort Fisher. It pays a compliment to his administration abilities, but considers him a failure as a military leader. It enumerates his failures, but thinks he has acted to the best of his knowledge and hopes the Government will place him in a situation better adapted to him.

The Herald's Army of the Potomac correspondent, announcing the removal of General Butler, says the ostensible grounds for removal was the failure at Wilmington, but that for months past he has been losing the confidence of the army through various causes.

The Post's Washington letter says the Navy Department has taken great pains to prevent the export of anthracite coal, which blockade runners desire, as they are discovered by the smoke of bituminous coal. Recently a ship, with a cargo, put into St. Thomas and sold the cargo, which was bought by blockade runners, and shipped to Nassau.

A quarrel between Jeff. Davis and Governor Clarke, of Mississippi, has arisen in regard to the State troops recently called out by the Governor. Davis has insisted that these troops shall be turned over to the Confederate authorities. Clarke refuses compliance, and replies that he is determined to command and control them. The Commander-in-Chief of the militia of Alabama, and the Legislature also disputes Jeff.'s authority, and has let it adjourn without having passed the necessary amendments to the militia law, for which they had been specially called.

Governor Watts also disputes Davis' right to decide who are exempts, in Alabama, and in reply to certain inquiries, says that Ministers, druggists and the press, are to be considered exempt.

The Lower House of the rebel Congress has been engaged for several days in discussing the position and consolidation of the rebel army. It appears to be generally admitted by the rebel Congress that absolute necessity for consolidation exists, and the debate is to a plan to perfect. The movement is opposed by the Conservative members, who favor the appointment of a Board of Examiners, to decide upon the merits of officers. Up to the adjournment, on the 6th instant, no decision had been made.

XXXVIIITH CONGRESS.

SECOND SESSION.

WASHINGTON, January 10.

SENATE.—Mr. GRIMES introduced a bill for the better organization of the pay department of the navy, which was referred to the Committee on Naval Affairs.

Mr. WILSON presented a resolution calling on the Adjutant General for a list of the names of regular and volunteer Major and Brigadier Generals in the army on the 1st of January, 1865, and where and how employed, &c., which was passed.

Mr. SUMNER said he had intended to call up to-day the resolution repealing the reciprocity treaty, but at the request of Mr. Howe, who wished to state it, he would not call it up until to-morrow.

Mr. SHERMAN, from the Committee on Finance, reported the House bill to supply deficiencies in last year's appropriations, making several additions, and striking out the appropriations for increasing the salaries of capitol employees, also the Consular Appropriation Bill, which latter was taken up.

Mr. HALE wished the Consular Bill postponed until Friday.

Mr. WILSON presented a resolution authorizing and directing an inventory of all articles in the arsenals of the United States, which was referred to the Military Committee.

Mr. BUCKALEW introduced a bill to repeal the act to authorize recruiting for the United States army in the rebel States, which was referred to the Military Committee.

Mr. SAULSBURY said some days ago he offered a resolution directing the Secretary of War to inform the Senate under what authority he called into the public service volunteers for thirty and ninety days. He has not yet replied to that resolution. I hold that the Secretary of War, as a member of the Cabinet, is in every sense subject to an order of the American Senate, and I now move that he be again directed to inform the Senate, under what authority he called into the public service volunteers for thirty and ninety days.

The Chair directed Mr. Saulsbury to draw up a resolution embracing the object aimed at, which he did, and it lies over.

Mr. WILSON introduced a bill to authorize the appointment of a second Assistant Secretary of War, which was referred to the Military Committee.

The Senate went into executive session and soon after adjourned.

HOUSE.—The House resumed the discussion of the Constitutional amendment for the abolishment of slavery.

Mr. KASSON advocated it, declaring that the people had declared for the amendment.

FERNANDO WOOD argued against the amendment.

In the House to-day the resolution was agreed to directing the Committee on Military Affairs to report what legislation was necessary to secure the prompt examination into the cases of persons arrested, and a speedy trial or discharge. The question of the constitutional amendment for the abolition of slavery was taken up and discussed.

Mr. KASSON said new light and influences had been brought to bear in favor of the amendment. The Baltimore Convention declared in its favor. The Chicago Convention did not dare take up the issue. A majority of the people decided in its favor by supporting the Baltimore Convention. A fundamental principle of the constitution was to favor the extension of civil and religious liberty. At the inception of the constitution, slavery was made the subject of consideration. He proceeded to show that Congress had a right to make the proposed amendment and maintained that the measure was necessary for the consolidating of the Union.

Mr. VOORHEES reminded the gentleman that the Republican majority heretofore passed the resolution declaring that the Government had no power to interfere with slavery in the States.

Mr. KASSON admitted it and said, now the proposed bill, amending the constitution to lay the foundation for such a power.

Mr. COX conceded the power to make the amendment, and said two thirds of the States could even erect a monarchy. He opposed the amendment as it tended towards consolidation and despotism. He would favor submitting it to the people, but feared it would disturb the balance of power between the States, and indeed destroy our peculiar representative system.

Mr. KASSON repeated that the proposition did not appeal to the war power, but to the peaceful means of amending the Constitution. He made additional remarks favoring the amendment.

Mr. FERNANDO WOOD discussed the want of power and impolicy of the amendment, and give notice of his intention to speak at a future day on the condition of the country.

Mr. ELDRIDGE, of Wisconsin, gave his reasons for opposing the amendment. He said it was the right of States to manage their institutions in their own way, and doubted the power of Congress to interfere. The adoption of the amendment would give the rebel leaders cause to arouse the people to further effort.

Mr. KING, of Missouri, said slavery was the cause of the disturbance for the past thirty-five years, and if it perished the slave holders could not complain. The question should be submitted to the people, in order to secure peace. He reviewed the political history of the country to show the progress of the slavery question and the aggression of its advocates.

Mr. GRINNELL, of Iowa, followed Mr. King in favor of the amendment, and was followed by Mr. FARNSWORTH, declaring that Congress had the power to make the amendment, and saying the objections came from the wrong side of the House. He was followed by Mr. MCBRIDE, in the same strain, after which the House adjourned.

Lake Erie Pirate Case.

Jeff. Davis Authorizes the Raid.

TORONTO, C. W., January 10.

The case of Curly, one of the Lake Erie parties, was again before the Court to-day. The original document, signed by Jeff. Davis, was produced, which authorized the raid. Objection being made to receiving it, the Court adjourned to Thursday to consider the objection.

HEAVY CLAIMS OF GOVERNMENT CONTRACTORS.

NEW YORK, January 10.

The Post's Washington special says the Albany Bridge case was on to-day.

Claims of Government contractors, to the amount of $30,000,000, are before the Naval Committee of the House. They ask an increase of 25 per cent on account of increased prices.

New York Finance and Trade.

Railway speculation was weak at the Stock Exchange, and there was a general weakness towards lower prices, with dull business. The bears offered sellers' option, but were not pressing. Cash and Stock markets in better demand for stock generally. Governments are still in active demand. Coal and Miscellaneous general. The Gold market opened this afternoon at 225½, rose to 226, but afterwards became quiet, and fell 3 per cent. A generally favorable military situation said to be the cause of the fall. The demand for Money is steady, at 7 per cent. Foreign Exchange in fair demand for to-morrow's steamer, with little offering. Rates firmer. The Australian has $555,000 in specie engaged. Large business transacted at the Petroleum Board. North American, $8 to $9 50. Market dull and nominal at 50c.

Collision on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

Sabbath morning last a serious accident occurred on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, near Farmington, by the passenger train west, and a freight train east colliding. The passenger engine was crushed almost to atoms, and several cars badly damaged. Immediately after the collision several of the cars took fire and were burned up. Mr. George Robinson, Adams Express Messenger, became entangled in the wreck, and before he could extricate himself was horribly burned. His face was burned and one of his ears was so badly burned that it is feared he will lose it, and may be disfigured for life. He was taken to Fairmont for medical attendance. Mr. Everstein was somewhat hurt, but not dangerously. Mr. La Rue, the conductor of the freight train, received serious but not fatal injuries, as did also the fireman of the passenger engine. The engineers saved themselves by jumping before the collision took place. Nearly all the baggage was totally destroyed before the fire could be extinguished, and the loss to the company will therefore be very heavy. Many of the passengers lost everything they had in the way of baggage, and some of the trunks and contents destroyed are said to have been very valuable.

Blair Senior is reported to be in Richmond, to see what can be done in the way of peace. The Tribune don't think that he will succeed, and urges filling up the army and making short work of the rebellion. Blair has no authority from the Government, but it is supposed he is authorized to ascertain whether any true peace is now attainable.

A Savannah clergyman, Gen. Wayne and Gen. Beauregard say that the reported atrocities charged upon Sherman's army at Milledgeville are unfounded. The ladies of that place also write that no such violence was ever attempted.

The Charleston Courier says that Hood butchered his troops as recklessly as ever Grant did.

CITY MATTERS.

Imposing Marriage Ceremony at the Cathedral.

For some time past rumor has been busy in circulating the interesting piece of intelligence that immediately succeeding the holidays the marriage ceremony of a gentleman of this city, of the Medical Profession, and a lady living in the Monongahela Valley, would be celebrated in the Cathedral with unusual grandeur. It was furthermore asserted that there would be a display of magnificence in all the appointments incident to such an occasion, and numberless were the reports as to the cost of dresses and diamonds in which the fair bride, whose name was as yet nameless, would be robed and adorned. There was just mystery enough in the case for the highest interest, which increased as the reported yet not entirely certain day drew near. It would be unprofitable, if not improper, to repeat with what particularity rumor, in the absence of a single fact, set forth the every appointment of the occasion, how it coupled names and searched for knowledge under difficulties, seemingly all the better satisfied because it was all the while in the dark.

Ultimately the doubt and mystery gave place to the ascertained fact that Dr. Daniel McMeal, Jr., and Miss Sallie A. L. Bigley, daughter of one of the wealthiest coal merchants on the Monongahela, would be united in marriage, on Tuesday the 10th, at ten o'clock in the forenoon.

The doors of the Catheral were thrown open at an early hour in the morning, and the vast edifice was soon filled with a multitude of citizens of both sexes, eager to witness the solemn ceremony. A few moments past ten o'clock, the bridal party, which beside the bride and groom, consisted of Miss Annie Kerr, Miss Mary McClosky, Mr. James E. Braney and Mr. Andrew Bigley, arrived in the sacristy of the church, and from thence, after some necessary preliminary arrangements, entered the spacious sanctuary. The altar, which was brilliantly lighted, was still draped artistically with the wreaths and flowers, and other adornments of the Christmas holidays. On the plain of the sanctuary chairs and preidens had been previously prepared for the bride and groom with their suite.

At the appointed time the bridal party moved into the sanctuary two by two processionally and having reverently genuflected retired to their respective places. Next came the clergy in regular order; first the acolytes, then the priests, and lastly Bishop Domenec, in full pontificals. The bride and groom were seated immediately in front of the altar. The bride was arrayed in a superb white ottoman silk dress; a magnificent bridal wreathe set jauntily upon her head, whilst a gorgeous lace set, consisting of collar, sleeves, and handkerchief of Point D'Elencon, added much to the richness of her wedding attire. The bridal veil was Point Applique lace, and altogether the outfit was both splendid and costly—selected with fine taste and nice sense of propriety. [Rumor, with more than usual accuracy, couples the entire outfit with a leading house in Market street, a fact that may be mentioned for the benefit of the curious.]

Without further particularizing, suffice to say, that as the fair bride sat in front of the altar, by the side of him whom she had chosen for a life partner, she was the object of admiration, if not envy, in the eyes of the vast multitude. Soon after the bridal party were seated the marriage ceremony commenced. The Right Rev. M. Domeneck officiated, assisted by Very Rev. Father Hickey and Rev. Fathers Holland and Burke. The Bishop's address was brief, and very appropriate.

After the ceremony was concluded, the Bishop and clergy retired to the sacristy and rested for a solemn High Mass, sung by the Very Rev. Rector of the Cathedral, with Revs. J. F. Holland and W. Burke, as deacon and sub-deacon. During this part of the Divine service the Bishop occupied his throne, while the bridal party were seated immediately in front of the altar. Twice the bride and groom approached and knelt on the lower step of the altar, and twice the celebrant read the prayers, which according to the ancient rite of the Catholic Church, were intended to invoke a special blessing on the married couple.

Towards the conclusion of Mass a solemn blessing was given by the Bishop to all present. The clergy then retired to the vestry room and disrobed, the congregation dispersed, and the bridal party were driven in carriages to the Monongahela House.

The cermony throughout was imposing and full of interest. The singing was under the direction of Prof. Wamelink, organist of the Church, assisted by Miss Moony, Mrs. Wamelink, Mrs. Charles Ihmsen, Mrs. Charles B. Barr, Miss Alice Cummins, Mr. Hamilton, Mr. McCargo, Mr. Kelley, Mr. McCarthy and Mr. Brenter.

In the evening Mr. and Mrs. McMeal entertained a select party of friends at the Monongahela House. We understand that they will leave to-day on a tour to Cincinnati and other Western cities.

NATIONAL BANK OF COMMERCE.—The National Bank of Commerce of Pittsburgh was organized yesterday by the election of the following Board of Directors: Alfred Patterson, Joseph Pennock, Charles Lockhart, Josiah King, John Mellon, Robert Patrick, William Reed, George W. Smith, William S. Haven. Mr. Patterson has been chosen President of the Company; Joseph H. Hill, Cashier, and Joseph C. Curry, Assistant Cashier. As will be observed, the Board is composed of first-class business men, well known for their enterprise and strict integrity, and under their management, the success of the Bank is assured. The Cashier, Mr. Hill, is the senior partner of the firm of Hill & Co., Bankers, and has always enjoyed a high character for business tact and integrity. Mr. Joseph Curry, the Assistant Cashier, was also a member of the same firm, has a large experience in banking affairs, and is eminently well qualified for the position. The President of the Bank, Mr. Alfred Patterson, was for several years and up to within a few weeks, the President of the Bank of Uniontown. He is thoroughly conversant with the details of the banking business, is an upright, intelligent citizen, and will make a good officer. The business of Hill & Co. will be merged into that of the new bank, which is located at the corner of Fifth and Wood.

ALLEGHENY CITY ELECTION.—The election held yesterday in Allegheny City for city officers, resulted in the success of the entire Union ticket. It will be seen that the vote was very small, owing, doubtless, to the inclement state of the weather. We give the figures for Mayor and Director of the Poor. The Ward officers were elected by about the same majorities.

LAUNCH OF THE IRON-CLAD SANDUSKY.—The iron-clad Sandusky, which has been in course of construction the past eighteen months, was launched yesterday afternoon from the ship-yard of Tomlinson, Hartupee & Co., on the Monongahela, above the city. The Sandusky is one hundred and seventy-two feet long, fifty feet breadth of beam, and as she now sits in the water draws about three feet forward and four aft. She is the exact counterpart of the iron-clad Marietta, launched two months ago from the same yard. At twenty minutes to two yesterday afternoon, everything being in readiness, the bonds which held the Sandusky on the ways were severed, and she sped like an arrow into the element she was destined for. The boat run across the river nearly to the opposite bank before her bow was turned downward, and rode the water beautifully. The launch was a perfect success, and the boat so far is also deemed a complete triumph of Pittsburgh mechanical skill. The Sandusky was towed to shore, and now lies alongside of the Marietta, opposite the ship yard. In a few weeks both vessels will be brought down to the manufactory of Messrs. Tomlinson, Hartupee & Co., and be supplied with their turrets and armament.

LEFT THE SERVICE.—Captain W. P. Herbert, Company I, 139th Regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteers, has resigned his position, and is now out of the service. The Captain was wounded in the arm and wrist in the battle of the Wilderness, which disqualified him from active service. He has been on court-martial duty for some months in this city. He entered the service as Quartermaster Sergeant of the regiment, and was promoted to the position of Second Lieutenant of Company I, on the resignation of Lieutenant Braddock, and on the death of Captain Dempsey, was promoted to fill the vacancy, a position he filled with credit. He retires from the service with honorable scars, and with no stain upon his military career. Such men make good citizens, and his return to private life will be welcomed with pleasure by his numerous friends.

COMMISSIONERS PRESENTED.—The Grand Jury came into Court yesterday morning, and presented the County Commissioners for misdemeanor in office, in not keeping the jail in proper condition, and failing to supply the inmates with proper clothing, etc. Judge Sterrett immediately instructed the District Attorney to prepare a bill of indictment against the Commissioners, which will be done.

MERCANTILE LIBRARY ASSOCIATION.—The annual meeting of the Young Men's Mercantile Library Association and Mechanics' Institute, will be held on Friday evening, when an election for officers will take place. A ticket to be voted for will be found elsewhere, and it is a good one.

Public Amusements.

THEATRE.—A great bill is presented at the theatre to-night, when Mr. Neafie will appear in two popular plays. He will personate the double-character of Fabien and Louis de Franchi, in "The Corsican Brothers," the performance of which delighted crowded houses in London for upwards of one hundred nights. He will also appear as William, in the favorite nautical drama of "Black-Eyed Susan," a character which he performs in capital style. Such a bill will attract another crowded house to the theatre to-night.

Another Tremendous House greeted the talented combination at Trimble's Varieties, last night. Md'lle Zanfretta appeared for the first time on the tight rope, and fairly took the house by storm. Mueller was also greeted with a brilliant reception. Smythe is certainly reaping a golden harvest—the sure result of energy and perseverance.

It is now universally acknowledged that for medical purposes the California wines are the only reliable article in the market, and in addition to their fine quality it is a great satisfaction to know that from their low prices they are within reach of all. A full assortment of these valuable wines are received at Joseph Fleming's drug store, corner of the Diamond and Market street, where also may be found a most complete stock of perfumery, brushes, combs, ect., ect. Also the most complete stock of genuine patent medicines in the city, embracing every advertised medicine. Remember the place—Jos. Fleming's drug store, corner of the Diamond and Market street. wf&s

The Daily Commercial.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 11, 1865.

☞ Correspondence on matters of public interest is solicited and will be thankfully received from our friends in all parts of the country, when accompanied by responsible names. More especially whatever relates to the discovery and production of oil, the development of oil lands and reliable oil intelligence in general, will be acceptable and is desired. Events of local interest mechanical and agricultural results, inventions and improvements of every description, clearly and briefly described, are solicited. To secure attention, communications should be brief, entirely reliable, and sent as promptly as possible.

Letters concerning the business departments of the newspaper or printing office should be addressed to the Business Manager. Communications designed for the paper should be addressed to The Editor.

The True Tariff Policy.

The New York Times, in a recent editorial, advocated a general revision and reduction of the tariff, with a view of bringing it to a strictly revenue standard. The reasons advanced by the advocates of free trade for a particular article are, that the American manufacturers are making too large profits, and that by the removal of the duty now imposed, the foreign article could be purchased at greatly reduced rates.

Following the natural course of such reasoning, the Times demands a general reduction of duties, and endeavors to strengthen the position by asserting that the Government requires a largely increased revenue, and must obtain it from foreign imports, as the people will not submit to any further domestic taxation.

The fallacy of this theory is so apparent that it ought not to require refutation, but so many persons seem to be misled by it that we have been induced to endeavor, in a brief manner, to present some views which both American manufacturers and consumers will concede to be sound.

We select no particular kind of business, but the arguments which apply to one, will also bear with equal force upon every manufacturing interest of our country. If our manufacturers of one description are making too large profits under the protection of the present duty, it is because capitalists have been deterred, and are deterred, by these constant threats of unfriendly legislation, from seeking this class of investments. All past experience proves that when this is the case, the few who already have their money in the business, will take advantage of the want of competition and combine to make large gains while they may. The true principle is to foster home industry, promote domestic capital and skill, and thereby withdraw our aid and encouragement from the trans-Atlantic manufacturers. And as a dernier resort to reduce the price of an important article, let capitalists be assured that the influences that effect legislation will be used in favor of the protective policy, and at the same time let them be pointed out the advantages of investment in the particular branch of manufactures, if any there be, which it is proposed to effect by an opposite course. The result will be that by the extension of the present and the building up of new manufactories, the competition will be so great that the price and profit must be brought to a legitimate standard.

While this seems to be the true policy in regard to special interests, the arguments of the Times clearly indicate how suicidal would be any deviation from the protective policy. The arguments of the increased wants of the Government, and the impossibility of meeting them by an increase of domestic taxation, and hence the necessity of reducing the tariff to a revenue standard, are specious and will not bear investigation.

By the protective policy Government has become as it were a silent partner in every workshop and manufactory in the land. It advances its promise of protection, and in return receives a large share of the profits before the individuals who furnish the capital and labor can reap any of the profits of the business. In fact, our whole financial system has, through the necessities of the nation, been built up on this same partnership theory, and can be successfully carried out only by a strict compliance with the terms of the agreement. Let the government break faith with the producer, by withholding its protection, and the producer must fail, and failing be unable to contribute to the necessities of the Government. So both individual and national prosperity would fall together.

Destroy the manufacturing interests, and with the same blow you deprive the agricultural, which is recognized as the largest interest of our country, of its chief source of prosperity. It is only by the success of the first that the latter can flourish.

If our present agricultural and manufacturing prosperity is impaired, we put an effectual stop to the present large immigration, stop the demand for labor here, and at the same time re-create it abroad, and the immigration must cease. Now every man who earns five hundred dollars per annum, represents a capital of, say ten thousand dollars. If this amount is earned here, it must represent capital here; but if we cause it to be earned abroad, the capital also must be there. So it is apparent that the true policy is to develope this capital in our own country, then both labor and capital represented will be able to contribute to the support of the government. Moreover, every laborer imported creates with those dependent upon him additional consumption for the agricultural products. Therefore, if you want that which you cannot produce yourself, it is the true policy to send for the foreigner who can produce it, where the very fact of his presence will tend to the increase of your national wealth.

If the wants of the Government are not met by the present income, the only healthy way to increase the revenue is to continue the protective policy. Make the tariff prohibitory upon whatever we can produce ourselves, and thereby keep our money in the country. While this will not give the Government money through imports, it will enable the country to bear heavier domestic taxation. We have no reason to believe that the people are not willingly bearing their present taxation; on the contrary, history does not show an instance where the heavy expenses of a great war have been so cheerfully borne. Such being the case, it is fair to believe that if our Government will continue to guarantee a market for the result of our labors, our people will be prepared to bear an increase of taxation in proportion to the increase of their prosperity.

This question of the removal of the duty on even a single article should be carefully considered, for, as has been shown by the course of the Times, it will serve as the entering wedge for a general attack on our whole agricultural and manufacturing prosperity, the success of which will be the complete overthrow of our whole national financial system. Then, instead of being a nation whose industrial prosperity, during a time of a great civil war, is the wonder and admiration of the whole world, we will exhibit a spectacle of idle workshops, empty warehouses, and neglected farms, the result of which will be individual bankruptcy, and certain national repudiation.

Bursting of Guns.

It may be well not to be in haste to adopt the conclusion that, because six PARROTT Rifles burst in the Wilmington bombardment, this description of gun is necessarily worthless. Guns burst from different causes, generally either from inherent defects, or from failure to to send the shot "home" in loading. To which of these causes the accidents at Wilmington are due, is yet to be determined. There is a conceded fact regarding that action which bears directly upon the question. The firing was very rapid. Carelessness is the almost necessary consequence of rapid firing, and it is almost always the case when a shot is not sent "home," it is through the none-observance of the rules. A 300-pounder PARROTT gun has sustained at Charleston over twelve hundred rounds, whereas the lifetime of a gun is usually fixed at seven hundred and fifty; and a 30-pounder has been fired at the same place over four thousand times. All PARROTT'S are made at the same foundry; but we may reasonably suppose that while they may not be all alike, the same degree of care is not always observed in firing them.

In a table recently published in Boston, showing the condition of the different factories in New England, the average dividends paid by the several manufacturing companies for the last six months of the year 1864 were quoted at twenty per cent. per annum, thus proving that the capital invested in manufacturing business is very profitably employed.

The Draft.

Beyond the efforts being made for the correction and amendment of the enrollment lists, we do not hear of any efforts being made towards filling our quota under the President's call. A few districts are at work raising funds with which to pay bounties, but they do not meet with that success that characterized similar previous efforts. The cause for this non-success is perhaps attributable to the fact that so many of the volunteers obtained by bounty money, and credited to districts, have turned out deserters, thus involving districts in much trouble and expense. It has unfortunately been the rule, in the past, with many sub-districts, to put off to nearly the last moment any effort towards filling their quota by paying bounties to volunteers, and the result has been that in their eagerness to escape the conscription they have overlooked their duty to the Government, and succeeded in putting into the ranks an indifferent class of men, in many instances, instead of men of good and reliable character. It is the duty of the patriot, when called upon by the authorities he himself has aided to constitute, to labor with a view of fully meeting the desires of the Government, and in the important matter of filling our armies with reliable recruits, the utmost care should be manifested. We do not propose to suggest how recruiting to fill quotas should be done, for there are men of intelligence in every district amply qualified to select and decide upon a plan best suited to their own condition and to the benefit of our armies.

Provost Marshal General FRY has issued an order that the quotas under the last call must not be reduced, except by actual enlistments in the army, navy and marine corps since the date of that call, December 19th. In other words, no enlistments made since the filling of the quotas under the previous call up to December 19th are to be credited on the quotas of the recent call for three hundred thousand men. This order is at variance with the oft-repeated instructions from the War Department to keep up volunteering against any future calls, and will cause no little dissatisfaction. Many cities and districts have permanent recruiting committees, which have continued to enlist men to their respective credits on any future call, and who will now be put to the additional trouble and expense under the above order of doing their patriotic work over again. The justice of this order is certainly questionable, and should be amended. As it is, it will involve many districts which have steadily aided in filling our armies by volunteers in great expense and trouble, from the fact that they have not only exhausted their financial means, but also their supply of fighting material.

The Best Cultivated Farm.

We condense the following report of the Committee on Farms, which we find in the report of the Pennsylvania Agricultural Society:

In June last the Committee were notified that five farms were entered for examination, and upon the morning of June 25th, the Committee commenced their labors, and proceeded, first, to the farm of John James, situated near the Brandywine, and containing one hundred and thirty-four acres, eight of which are wood land, and the balance under cultivation. At present his farm is under cultivation as follows: About forty-five acres, including twenty of meadow, in pasture; twenty-five in mowing grass; ten acres in corn and oats each, and nine acres in wheat. The growing crops all looked well. The wheat was unusually fine and promising, except about two acres which had been sown one week later than the remainder, and which suffered severely from Hessian fly. This afforded a striking instance of the advantages of early seeding. Here was a field containing but nine acres, the quality of the soil the same, manured eqally alike all over, and sown with the same quality of wheat, and yet the two acres later sown are so much injured by the fly as to indicate less than half an average yield, while the remainder promised thirty bushels to the acre. The fields were well proportioned to the size of the farm, and free from noxious weeds of any kind. The fences, though some of them very old, were generally in good repair. Among his implements were found the mowing machine, drill, hay drag, &c., all indicating that he was among the progressive farmers of the country.

The next farm visited, was that of Thomas W. Jones, containing one hundred and ten acres of cleared and twelve of wood land. This farm having been worked very severely by previous owners, Mr. Jones is cropping it very moderately, so as to bring the soil into good heart again, cultivating but six acres of oats and wheat each, eight acres of corn and twenty acres of mowing grass. His fences were found in excellent condition. The pasture fields looked well, and his crops were all good; the oats crop was unusually promising—having been drilled in, at the rate of only one bushel and three pecks of seed to the acre. The barn was found replete with all modern improvements; the granaries convenient; the stables light, airy and comfortable, and shedding in abundance. So complete was everything connected with the barn, that the Committee looked in vain for some neglect. His various out-houses were positive ornaments to his grounds, and in striking contrast with the unsightly piles of weather-beaten boards and shingles which disfigure the premises of many of our farmers, under the name of carriage-houses, wagon-sheds, &c.

The farm of Nathan Garret next came under the notice of the Committee, containing one hundred and seventy-five acres. His growing crops of grass, wheat, corn and oats looked well, the latter drilled in and crossed with a bushel and a half of seed each way to the acre. The crop indicates too much seed, and does not promise as well as Mr. Jones'. Mr. Garrett used lime extensively on his land for many years, and with good effect. He spread it upon the wheat stubble in the fall of the year, at the rate of forty bushels to the acre.

The farm of J. W. Thorn, containing one hundred and sixty-four acres, was purchased twelve years ago for a few dollars an acre, at which time the greater part of it was lying out in common, not being considered worth fencing. By skilful labor, and the judicious application of moderate means, Mr. Thorn has made himself the proprietor of a good Chester county farm. He cultivates twenty acres of wheat, four of rye, eighteen of corn and oats each, thirty-six of mowing grass, and half an acre of Chinese sugar cane. He has improved his land so rapidly by a liberal application of lime, using forty bushels to the acre on the sod previous to plowing for corn, following up with plaster on the first crop of grass.

The farm of B. Pritchard contains one hundred and eighty-seven acres, of which sixteen are woodland. The larger part of this farm is in mowing grass and pasture, there being but twelve acres each of wheat, corn, and oats. These crops all promised well, particularly the corn, which was the best yet seen. His fences are good, and generally free from noxious weeds. In September these farms were again visited, and Mr. Jones was the only one who could give a statement of the yield of crops. Why should a farmer be less systematic in his business than a merchant? From Mr. Jones they learned that from twenty acres of mowing grass he had fifty loads of good hay, averaging one and a half tons to the load. From six acres he gathered two hundred and five dozen of wheat, and from six acres of oats he harvested one hundred and seventy-five dozen.

Mr. James reports an average of two and a half tons of hay to the acre. The corn crop was found heavily eared—Mr. Pritchard's giving promise of the heaviest yield.

The following requisites are necessary to good farming:

A good soil, well tilled, and kept free from noxious weeds, both in the field and on the roadside.

Fields well fenced, and suitable in number to the size of the farm, with arrangements for watering stock in each.

Substantial and convenient barns and stables of sufficient dimensions to contain the produce of the farm.

Convenient yards attached to the barns and stables, so arranged as to prevent the wastage of the liquid manure, well sheltered from the blasts of winter, and provided with water for the cattle.

With these points before them, the committee had no difficulty in making a unanimous award to Mr. Jones.

WEALTHY TAX-PAYERS IN CHICAGO.—The Chicago papers publish the income tax lists of that city, of all who have an income above $3,000 per annum. Potter Palmer has an annual income of $333,485; John V. Farwell $197,152, and Peter Schuttler, $103,781. Newspaper publishing seems to be a flourishing business in Chicago, as we find the incomes of the Tribune proprietors set down as follows: Joseph Medill, $26,790; Wm. Bross, $25,957, and J. L. Scripps, $23,856. Chas. L. Wilson, of the Journal, has an annual income of $25,254. W. F. Storey, of the Times, has an income of $19,653. Those whose income is $50,000, and less than $100,000, number nine; $40,000, and less than $50,000, four; $30,000, and less than $40,000, sixteen; $20,000, and less than $30,000, fifty-four; $10,000, and less than $20,000, one hundred and thirty-two; under $10,000, and not less than $3,000, five hundred and ninety-one.

WHAT NEXT?—A Washington correspondent, writing on the failure of the Wilmington Expedition, says: Of course everybody is asking what next? Well, the fleet cannot, alone, do the work; and therefore the future depends, to some extent, upon Gen. Grant. Moreover, the season of storms upon the coast is now fully arrived, and that fact must enter largely into the consideration of the matter. Butler's force was 7,000 men—less than half the number the Navy Department asked for to make a sure thing of the job. Whether General Grant can spare double that number is also a question for consideration. The fleet must go somewhere for coal—probably has gone somewhere, already. There is coal at Port Royal, and also at Beaufort, North Carolina; but a full supply cannot be had nearer than Fortress Monroe. The question of another attack was discussed in Cabinet meeting yesterday, but we can wait a few weeks for knowledge of the tenor and conclusion of that discussion. Gen. Grant, however, is credited with the remark that he supposed he should have to let Sherman come up and go in at the back door of Savannah. Such a movement would doubtless be very acceptable to the country.

General Intelligence.

A bill has been introduced in the Illinois Legislature to remove the State Capital from Springfield to Peoria or Decatur. It may pass in the Senate, but will be defeated in the House.

The next State Fair of the the Indiana Agricultural Society will be held at Fort Wayne.

Within the last week five citizens of Chicago have been arrested, charged with aiding rebel prisoners to escape from Camp Douglas. The evidence of their criminality is said to be conclusive.

Massachusetts, it will be remembered, imported about eleven hundred foreigners for the purpose of putting them into the army and to be credited to the quota of the State. After arriving at Boston, a large majority of the men refused to enter the service, alleging that they had been brought to the country to labor. The State has lost greatly by the investment.

The agricultural products of Texas during the past two years have been fully equal to the demand. The crop of corn just harvested throughout Eastern Texas is immense, while the cereal grains, particularly wheat, are superior in quality, though limited in quantity. The mast is also good in all parts of the State, which will supply the inhabitants with bacon without drawing upon their corn crop to make it.

An effort is about to be made for the erection of a new capitol at Albany. The Council of Albany, it is said, will purchase the requisite ground and donate it to the State. It is proposed to fit up the present capitol for the Governor's mansion.

Bills have been introduced in the New York Legislature for the purpose of levying a uniform tax throughout the State for the payment of bounties.

The law regulating prize money, applicable to the case of the Kearsarge crew, is two hundred dollars a head for each person on board the Alabama. This will give the crew a little over thirty thousand dollars. Had the Alabama been brought into port and not sunk, the whole value of her, by the prize law, would have belonged to the crew, which, as she cost fifty-eight thousand pounds, would be nearly three hundred thousand dollars. It will be seen by this that it is rather a losing business to Jack to sink ships at sea.

The cavalry and artillery arms of the service being amply supplied with horses, orders have been issued by General Meigs that further purchases of animals, intended for such service be suspended at certain points, Pittsburgh being named in the list.

A collision occurred on the Northern Central Railroad on Saturday, near York, Pa., by which four persons were instantly killed and some twenty wounded.

Personal.

It is said there is to be a new shuffle of the political pack in New York. Mr. Draper is to have the Savannah cotton agency, and his position of collector will pass either to Preston King or to Abram Wakeman, probably the latter. Again, it is alleged that Mr. Wakeman will be assistant United States treasurer; that Mr. Andrews and a few other gentlemen who are at present "out," will soon receive appropriate appointments.

It is said that when Gen. Sherman's march through Georgia was determined upon, the Secretary of War informed him that the President desired Gen. Hooker should be appointed second in command. Gen. Sherman replied, expressing his preference for Howard; he was again informed that the President particularly desired the appointment of Hooker; Gen. Sherman answered that his resignation was at the President's disposal, when the Secretary wrote to Sherman, "appoint whom you please."

A dispatch to the Philadelphia Ledger asserts that the Committee on the Conduct of the War in their report on the Petersburg mine failure, will relieve Gen. Burnside from the entire responsibility for that affair. Generals Meade and Grant, according to the evidence taken by the committee, are not exempt from blame in the matter.

Gov. Andrew authorises the statement that he has never consented, and under no circumstances will consent to the use of his name as a candidate for the United States Senate against Gen. Wilson.

Rev. Arthur Cleveland Coxe was consecrated Assistant Bishop of the Diocese of Western New York, at Trinity Church, in Geneva, on the 4th inst.

An army correspondent states that Maj. Gen. Godfrey Weitzel, commanding the 25th Corps, has been granted thirty days leave of absence, and will leave immediately for Cincinnati. The General is about to be married to a young lady resident in that city. Captains Graves and Fitch, of his personal staff, accompany the General.

Major General Franklin is still in Washington.

Wm. S. Owens, of Pittsburgh, has resigned a first-class clerkship in the Paymaster General's office, Washington.

Private David McMillen, Company C, 57th Pa. Volunteers, has been complimented in general orders, by Gen. Meade, and presented with a twenty days' furlough, in recognition of the good conduct exhibited by him in arresting an alien recruit, who was attempting to desert to the enemy.

The Nashville Refugees.

The Philadelphia Bulletin publishes the annexed extracts from a letter from the "President of the Ladies' Union Aid Society of Nashville," which is of itself the most powerful appeal to the benevolent that can be made:

"NASHVILLE, Dec. 31, 1864.—* * * I distributed clothing to upwards of thirty refugees to-day, and could have clothed as many more if I had the means with me. Think of these women and girls, with a cotton dress and cotton petticoat, both well worn and no shawls this cold weather. But this is not the worst, our sick have no regular attention, nursery, or diet. The only building of a public kind occupied by them, is the Refugee Transfer House or Barracks.

"Your heart would have ached, had you been with me this day. In one room was a family composed of husband, wife and four children. The only well one, the oldest child, was a girl of about thirteen years of age. Husband, wife and baby occupied the same bed. The husband was so emaciated, he could not even tell me his ailings or wants; a constant cough prevented his uttering two consecutive words. The baby lay with outstretched tongue. The mother, thin and exhausted, was delirious, and could not answer my questions. By the hearth crouched a girl of ten years, who after our entrance was seized with convulsions. The older sister held her whilst we chafed her hands. Her fearful shrieks aroused the mother, who in her delirium exclaimed "They are killing my children, they are whipping them to death." I tried to soothe her and to divert her attention to her babe, she exclaimed in piteous tones: "Would God that it were dead." She insisted that the articles of clothing we had brought were shrouds for her children. This family had been living in an open stable. All had the measles, and this condition is the result of exposure. What can a child of thirteen do with six sick people?

In another room, a woman was in bed with cough and diarrhea. She had been in the small-pox hospital. Her only child, a boy of eight years, was ill with measles by her side. A young grandchild was in the room. These three were the sole survivors of a family of ten—the grandmother, six children, and three grandchildren—who came to this city two months since. This is a fair specimen of the daily scenes of the Refuge House. We require money clothing, etc.

DIED:

WATSON—At 1½ o'clock, on Tuesday morning, GEORGE WATSON, Esq., in the 80th year of his age.

The funeral will leave his late residence, on the corner of Fulton and Franklin streets, on Wednesday, 11th instant, at 2 o'clock, p. m. The friends and acquaintances of the family are respectfully invited to attend.

RUPTURE OR HERNIA CURED.

By means of RAINBOW'S RELIEF; and for ease, efficacy and durability unparalleled in the world. Being a perfect new principle, proven to be superior to any Truss or Abdominal Supporter ever before applied. Admired by the scientific for its adaptation and beautiful simplicity, varying in many important points from other applications. A few only are mentioned below, with a few out of a thousand reliable testimonials. Rainbow's Relief differs from the Truss in having upward pressure—relieving the weight from the spine. It varies its pressure instantly, as the case may more or less require. It cannot get out of place when once fit on and properly adjusted. It has no friction externally to make the outer skin sore. It inspires the wearer with confidential ease, being a shield from danger. It will endure, with all its virtues, until a cure is perfected. It don't in any way interfere with labor, pleasure, rest or sleep. It don't injure the nervous system by pressing the vertebra. It don't press the bowels to the opposite side to rupture it. It don't rob the system of electricity with metal band. It don't. therefore, endanger life, attracting the electric fluid. Its easy, friendly embrace will make you forget all difficulties. It may be worn by the youngest infant, and not removed until cured. It may be put off in three seconds and on in ten, when once fit on without loosing or slacking a strap.

TESTIMONIALS.

My daughter was cured, after many years suffering, by wearing Prof. Rainbow's Relief a short time.

SARAH KUNKLE, West Manchester, Pa.

It cured me too, after seventeen years standing, to the astonishment of myself and doctors.

MOSES KNOTT, New Brighton, Pa.

I was born ruptured, it cured me in less than one year.

WM. COLEMAN, New Brighton, Pa

My son, Peter P. Reel, was ruptured from infancy, was over 25 years old when he began wearing Prof. Rainbow's cure, in January, 1863, a very bad case on both sides and scrotal, he was cured sound by the following October.

ROBBINS'

HERMETICAL BARREL.

VALENTINE'S FREIGHT EXPRESS AND THROUGH TICKET OFFICE,
168 Broadway, cor. Dey st., (Oil Depot, Jersey City,)
NEW YORK, November 26, 1864.

A. A. TAYLOR, Actuary,

158 Broadway.

We have received at our Yard at Penhorn City, New Jersey, an invoice of Refined Petroleum from Titusville, Pa., one of the Barrels having the Brand of the "Hermetical Barrel Co.," (Robbin's Patent.) A careful examination of this cask shows it to be in perfect order, no evaporation or leakage, and the wood as dry as before it was filled. The other barrels of the invoice were in fair order, but had leaked or evaporated about two gallons each. We cheerfully recommend the Hermetical Barrel to Refiners and Shippers of Petroleum.

TREMBLEY, PHELPS & CO.

NEW YORK, October 28th, 1864.

A. A. TAYLOR, Actuary,

153 Broadway.

We received at our Depot, Jersey City, on the 13th of October last, an envoice of Petroleum from Titusville, Penn'a., of which were four barrels having the brand of the "HERMETICAL BARREL COMPANY, ROBBINS' PATENT." A careful examination of these barrels shows them to be in perfect order. No evaporation or leakage. The outside of the wood of the barrels are as dry as before they were filled. We understand the above shipment was three weeks on the road, and was transhipped three times, since they have been at our Depot. They have been subject to considerable rough treatment and exposure to sun and rain. A few days ago they were gauged and found to contain all the Oil that was originally put in them. The loss of Petroleum from leakage and evaporation between here and Oil Creek amounts to from five to twenty per cent. We have no doubt the ROBBINS HERMETICAL BARREL would save this entire loss, as well as all losses of Petroleum when on storage.

E. H. VALENTINE,
Superintendent.

We will be prepared in a short time to furnish to Refiners, Barrel Manufacturers and Dealers in Crude Oil, Samples of Barrels prepared by ROBBINS' process, which will demonstrate to all interested that this Barrel is all that is claimed for it, A HERMETICAL BARREL, that it will hold Crude Oil, Refined Oil, Naptha, Spirits of turpentine, &c., without leakage or evaporation for months, and without injury in the slightest degree. The process of preparing Barrels by ROBBINS' method is very simple and cheaper than most other processes in use, and is effectual. SONG.

BY JOHN K. HOLMES.

The Stars and Stripes forever!
  Bright emblem of the free,
The brave heart and strong hand
  Will ever go with thee.
What needs the soul to cheer it—
  Its valor to improve,
But something noble near it,
  And something good to love?
CHORUS—Then wave flag—
  Good flag—
 Wave above the free!
 Oh! never will I shun thee
  Thou bonny flag to me.

The Stars and Stripes forever!
  Fair emblem of the brave,
I'll love thee on the broad land,
  And greet thee on the wave.
Oh! stir the hero's ardor,
  A nation's zeal improve;
For only should the good cause
  Be worthy of our love!,
CHORUS.—Then wave flag,
  Good flag, &c.

The Stars and Stripes forever!
  "Old glory" suits us well!
The soldier sees its bright folds
  And feels his bosom swell.
It nerved his heart in danger,
  It cheered him when he strove,
And he can but once forget it
  When his heart shall cease to move.
CHORUS.—Then wave flag,
  Good flag, &c.

Various Items.

A letter from the headquarters of the Army of the Tennessee, at Columbia, Tenn., states that our forces are moving towards Eastport, Ala., which place it is intended to make a base of supplies, as it is accessible both by land and the Tennessee River. It is very probable that our forces in that department will not remain idle.

The St. Louis Typographical Union recently struck for higher prices, which the proprietors of the St. Louis papers refused to accede to. After a warfare of some weeks, the Union adopted a resolution permitting members to withdraw and work for what price and where they pleased.

The northern border passport system is causing much excitement in Buffalo, Detroit and other towns. The Board of Trade of Detroit have passed resolutions condemning the system, and have sent a committee to Canada to confer with the leading business men for the purpose of taking such measures as will restore perfect cordiality, security and unobstructed intercourse along the frontier.

At a late meeting of the Canadian Institute, the following question was discussed: "Would not annexation with the United States be preferable to Lower Canada in every respect to a legislative union disguised under the name of a Confederation of the British Provinces, such as adopted at the Quebec Conference?" The question was unanimously decided in the affirmative.

By late advices from Mexico it would seem that Maximillian is gradually strengthening himself in his new empire. His war on the guerrillas has resulted in improving the interior commerce of the country, and business is now conducted with entire security and dispatch. On the 8th of December the Imperial Council of State was installed. Its members were chosen from the most distinguished men of the conflicting parties whose incessant pronunciamentos for and against each other have been the curse of Mexico.

During the year 1864, the arrivals of vessels at New York numbered only 4,809, against 5,082 in 1863. The whole number of immigrants arrived during 1864 was 193,342. At the old average estimate of the value of each immigrant to the industrial interests of the republic ($1,500), the arrivals this year have been equal to an addition of $297,513,000 to the industrial wealth of the country, or about one-seventh of the grand total of the indebtedness of the National Government.

The New York Sun says:—"It deserves to be more generally known that a large proportion of Southern indebtedness has been expunged in this manner. Many of our leading firms formerly engaged in the Southern trade, have received as much as seventy per cent. of their old accounts, and some houses that we could name have been entirely paid. To such an extent has this been the case, that it is estimated by the most reliable authorities, that of the enormous merchant debt due from the South to the North at the commencement of the rebellion, fully sixty per cent. has been paid. As the course of the Savannah merchants is likely to be imitated in all the other Southern cities, as fast as they fall under our control, it will probably result that the rebellion will not cause a heavier loss to Northern creditors, except in the delay, than would have occurred if there had been no outbreak of hostilities."

THE London Times editorially applauds Secretary Seward's correspondence with Mr. Parker, when that gentleman sought to submit an address to President Lincoln, signed by 350,000 people of Great Britain. The Times denounces the officiousness of this address and the manner of proceeding with it, and says the public of both nations ought to be much obliged to Mr. Seward for having administered to these people so complete and well-earned a snub.

SPECIAL NOTICES

☞ A DECEPTIVE MALADY.—So insidious are the first approaches of Consumption that thousands remain unconscious of its presence until it has brought them to the verge of the grave. An immediate resort to DR. JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT, upon the first appearance of the Cough, Pain or Soreness of the Throat or Chest, would very generally preclude a fatal result, or, in case the symptoms indicate the presence of Latent Consumption, would tend to subdue the violence of the disease, and thus materially assist in prolonging the life of the patient. Use the Expectorant, therefore, when you take cold, and thus prevent the necessity for its use in more dangerous complaints. Sold by druggists everywhere. ja9-MW&S

☞ FOR NEARLY A QUARTER OF a century Matthews' Venetian Hair Dye has been extensively used, and in no case has it failed to give entire satisfaction.

The VENETIAN DYE is the best and cheapest in the world. Its price is only Fifty Cents, and each bottle contains double the quantity of dye in those usually sold for $1.

THIS HAIR DYE is manufactured by a peculiar process which renders it immeasurably superior to any thing in the shape of a Dye now or ever before the people. Being complete in one bottle, no preparation is required, which greatly simplifies the application.

IN USING THIS DYE, you avoid that DUSTY, DIRTY appearance by which dyed hair and whiskers are so readily recognized, when an inferior article has been used; besides, it produces a perfectly natural color of any shade that may be desired—one that will not fade, crock or wash out—one that is as permanent as the hair itself. ETHER CHLOROFORM NITROUS OXIDE GAS
IN SURGICAL OPERATIONS.

The use of Chloroform and of Nitrous Oxide, or laughing gas, is in all cases attended with danger; but the use of ether, under the observance of certain rules, is absolutely safe, if an opinion founded on 16 or 18 years of close observation and experience, in a practice embracing many thousand cases, can confer a right to judge. Persons are daily, and almost hourly, receiving the benefit of this observation and experience, in operations, which in a natural condition, would be almost unendurable, but which, by the use of ether, are rendered quite pleasant, and yet there are doubters. Let all such call at 278 Penn street, and they shall be convinced. They will also have an opportunity to see those very beautiful Vulcanite Sets of Gum Teeth, at from $12 to $15, far superior to many made elsewhere at $18 to $25. STRENGTH TO THE WEAK!
YOUTH TO THE AGED!!
BIOKRENE
OR LIFE REJUVENATOR.

This preparation is unequaled as a Rejuvenator and Restorer of wasted or inert functions.

The aged should be certain to make the Biokrene a household god, inasmuch as it will render them youthful in feeling and in strength, and enable them to live over again the days of their pristine joy. It not only exhilarates but strengthens, and is really an invaluable blessing, especially to those who have been reduced to a condition of servility, self abuse, misfortune, or ordinary sickness. No matter what the cause of the impotency of any human organ, this superb preparation will remove the effect at once and for ever.

BIOKRENE

Cures Impotency, General Debility, Nervous Incapacity, Dyspepsia, Depression, Loss of Appetite, Low Spirits, Weakness of the Organs of Generation, Imbecility, Mental Indolence, Emaciation, Ennui. It has a most delightful, desirable and novel effect upon the nervous system; and all who are in any way prostrated by nervous disabilities are earnestly advised to seek a cure in this most excellent and unequalled preparation.

Persons who, by imprudence, have lost their NATURAL VIGOR, will find a speedy and permanent cure in the

BIOKRENE;

The feeble, the languid, the dispairing, the old should give this valuable discovery a trial; it will be found totally different from all other articles for the same purpose.

TO FEMALES.—This preparation is invaluable in nervous weakness of all kinds, as it will restore the wasted strength with wonderful permanence.

It is also a grand tonic, and will give relief in dyspepsia with the first dose. A brief persistence in its use will renovate the stomach to a degree of perfect health and banish Dyspepsia forever.

One Dollar per Bottle, or six Bottles for $5. Sold by Druggists generally.

The success which has attended the Pittsburgh Trust Company since its organization in 1852, will, we believe, be a sufficient guarantee that business entrusted to the new organization will receive the same prompt attention.

TUESDAY, Jan. 10, P. M.

The "Farmers' Deposit National Bank" is an old acquaintance in a new suit of clothes. They will open their books as a National Bank on the first day of February proximo.

We do not suppose that their customers will notice very much difference in their transactions with this Bank under their new name. They will find, we have no doubt, the same clever and competent officers prompt and active in the discharge of their duties; and the directory ready to afford such facilities to their customers as they have heretofore done.

We have not been informed on the subject but take it for granted that James Marshall, Esq., will continue to act as President, and R. A. George, Esq., as Cashier. The former had established a character for shrewdness, industry and integrity long prior to his connection with this institution, and the extraordinary success it has met with proves him to be eminently fitted for such a position. Mr. George has made his reputation in the Bank, and he has reason to be proud of it. We only hope they may not feel the dignity of their new name so much as to change their present accommodating hours and disposition.

McIlwaines regular weekly Stock sales was pretty well attended last evening, but the transactions were comparatively light. A good many stocks were withdrawn not receiving a high enough offer to suit the owner. The following sales took place:

		Citizens Bank	$87 50
		Mechanics Bank	76 50
22	shares	Bank Pittsburgh	72 00
10	"	M. & M. Bank	76 75
10	"	Allegheny Gas Co.	37 25
200	"	Cherry Run Central	1 70
600	"	Tarr, Story & Cherry Run	1 10
25	"	Phillips	5 25
850	"	Ross	1 26
100	"	Cherry Run & Pit Hole	95c.
100	"	Eldorado	2 02½

—The sales at the Stock Board, this forenoon, were 200 shares Ritchie Oil Stock at $1 15 ex dividend, and 100 shares of Cherry Run and Pittsburgh at $1 05.

—A clerical error made in a hasty copy of the proceedings of the Stock Board, for the afternoon papers, does injustice to the Germania Oil Company, in quoting it at $1 05. It was the Cherry Run and Pittsburgh which sold at $1 05. Germania is held at $5 00.

—The First National Bank held their annual election to-day for directors, which resulted in the choice of the following gentlemen: James Laughlin, Thomas Wightman, Wm. K. Nimick, Francis G. Bailey, Robert S. Hays, Thomas Bell, Alex. Speer, John K. Ralston, John Wilson.

The Second National Bank held an election also, and chose for directors: G. E. Warner, Jake Hill, R. Bughman, Wm. Cooper, W. M. Gormly, C. P. Klopfer, A. B. McQuewan, W. McClintock, John Heath.

The Iron City National Bank chose for Directors James McAuley, John W. Chalfant, And. D. Smith, Henry Irwin, Daniel Euwer, Wm. Frew, David Fitzsimons, (First Ward,) David Hostetter, Jacob L. Schwartz, James Herdman, Richard Hays, John Watt, Charles J. Clarke.

The Fourth National Bank elected for Directors, James O'Connor, David M. Smith, James M. Bailey, John F. Herron, N. J. Bigley, Thos. Smith, R. H. King, Wm. Rea, Thomas Donnelly.

—The National Bank of Commerce of Pittsburgh elected the following Board of Directors to-day: Alfred Patterson, Joseph Pennock, Charles Lockhart, Josiah King, John Mellon, Robert Patrick, William Reed, Geo. W. Smith, William S. Haven. Mr. Patterson has been chosen President of the company, Joseph H. Hill, Cashier, and Joseph C. Curry, Assistant Cashier.

—The Merchants and Manufacturers Bank elected the following Directors: H. L. Bollman, R. B. Sterling, E. M. Fulton, J. P. Tanner, Wm. Rea, B. R. Bradford, R. K. Hartley, W. Cunningham, Henry Lloyd.

PITTSBURGH GENERAL MARKET.

PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL OFFICE,
Wednesday, Jan. 11, 1865.

The markets yesterday came pretty much to a s and still. The weather was such that business men were not desirous of exposing their products to the inclemency of the weather any more than was actually necessary. The rain came down steadily all day, there being no intermission. As a natural consequence, both rivers were rising rapidly, with plenty of water to float a man-of-war, and more coming. The slippery condition of the wharf prevented the Champion from receiving freight. She will leave this day, positively, for Cincinnati and Louisville. She will be followed by the packet Anna, Capt. James Maratta. The packet Olive, Capt. Andrews, is announced for Cairo and St. Louis. The packets J. R. Gilmore, Capt. Harton, and Pilgrim, Capt. Brickell, are announced for Nashville. Among the arrivals are the Navigator, from Cincinnati, with a large trip; the Leanora No. 2 also came in from Cincinnati with a fair trip. Below will be found the transactions that came under our notice.

FLOUR—The market yesterday was inactive. The sales were limited. The supply on hand is not large. Prices have undergone no change. Extra Family ranges from $10 75@11 15; extra, $10 25@10 37½. Country lots could be purchased at lower prices. The exports East were limited.

BUTTER—The demand has fallen off—buyers are not disposed to take hold at the present figures. We quote nominally at 45@47c.

DRIED FRUIT—The demand is improving, the principal inquiry being for export South. The rates were; Apples, 12@12½c ₱ ℔; Peaches, 26@28c.

HAY—The unfavorable weather yesterday prevented receipts; only 4 loads were disposed of at $43@45 per ton; baled was unchanged.

BACON—Was in fair demand; we note sales of shoulders, 2,000 ℔s, at 22c; sides, 1,000 ℔s, 23c, and 1,000 ℔s sugar cured hams at 25c.

APPLES—The market was dull; there is a number of lots of frozen on hands, which dealers are willing to dispose of at whatever they can obtain; sales 50 bbls of choice, at $3 50@3 75 ₱ bbl.

CHEESE—The market has been steady for some time past, with regular sales of Western Reserve at 21@22c; Goshen, 24c, and Hamburg at 23c.

FLAX SEED—Was in good demand; we note sales of 100 bush, at $3 25, to go out of the market.

EGGS—Were dull; prices nominal at 36@37c.

POTATOES—The market continues dull, with small sales of Peach Blows at $3 ₱ bbl.

CIDER—We note sales of 9 barrels at $8 00 ₱ bbl.

GRAIN—The market was inactive. The receipts were limited, and so were the transactions. Oats—Sales 300 bush at 90c. Wheat dull with more sellers than buyers; prices nominal. Corn was more fancied; sales 200 bush new at $1 30@1 35. Barley—We heard of no transactions; prices were unchanged.

LEAD—We note further sales of 85 pigs at 16c ₱ ℔.

GROCERIES—The market was inactive; as sales were limited and prices unchanged, we omit figures.

SALT—Was steady, with further sales at $3 05.

LARD—There was more inquiry for this article. Sales 12 tcs at 24½@25c—some dealers were firm at 25c.

PITTSBURGH OIL TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL,
Wednesday, December 11, 1864.

BUSINESS—The unfavorable state of the weather operated as a check in trade generally and oil in particular. The rain that set in on Monday night continued up to the time we are writing this report. Both rivers are rising rapidly. The Allegheny being full of heavy ice there were no receipts by the river since Friday. The ice will soon run out. The stock of oil on hand is small; this tends to hold up the prices. The Refiners are mostly running full time. They are making preparations for the spring trade. The principal sales made at present being to Western cities. Our latest from Oil City represent a firm market with plenty of purchasers for the Eastern market. The nominal rates in our market were as follows. Crude Oil ranged from 39@40c, packages returned, and 44@45c, packages included. Refined Oils—The sales were limited at provious quotations—Bonded at 67@68c. The principal sales were in Free at 88@89c. The margin between the New York figures are not sufficient to admit of exports, hence most of our large operators are not forwarding to any extent.

CRUDE OIL—The stock on hand being small sales were of a similar description. Sales of 75 barrels, packages included, and 150 barrels, in two lots, at 40c, packages to be returned.

REFINED OIL—The market was steady, but not active. As prices were unchanged we omit them.

TAR—Holders were firm in their views. Prices range from $7 25 to $7 50 per barrel.

NAPTHA—The market was not active. We quote nominally Bonded 19c, Free 38c.

Imports of Oil per Allegheny Valley R. R.

GOING EAST.

Aladdin Co, 57 bbls benzole, for Boston.
G S Long & Co, 140 bbls refined, for Philadelphia.

Cincinnati Provision Market.

The receipts of Hogs at this point, says Messrs. Phillips, Sledge & Co.'s Circular, continue light, and growing smaller daily; the entire receipts of the week being 12,000 head. Most of our packers have stopped cutting, and the packing at this point is nearly closed for the season. The Price Current of this week publishes the returns of the Hogs packed at various Western points, and the deficiency being large, speculators took hold freely, and prices of mess and bulk Meats materially advanced, though the unfavorable news from New York caused a dull feeling, and speculators generally withdrew from market. To-day there are more sellers than buyers, and prices tending downward. The amount of country Meat offering on this market is very small, compared with former years.

The demand for mess pork has been very active during the first part of the week, and large sales were made at $40 to $40 50 for deliveries at interior points, and $43 50 to $44 for city; but at the close, city mess was freely offered at $43, and country at $41 50, without finding buyers. The exports during the week were only 900 bbls. There has been but little inquiry for prime mess, and we quote prices nominal at $37@38; rumps, $31@32. Prime lard has been in fair demand, and prices advanced to 23c for city, with fair sales at this price, but at the close the market was dull, and we think 22½c is the outside price that could be obtained for city, and 22@22½c for country, though holders ask ¼@½c higher.

Head and gut Lard held at 22c. Keg Lard 25c. Shipped during week, 1,700 tierces. Greases unchanged. New Bacon Hams $23 50@24, packed, but uncanvassed. Bulk Meats advanced to $16 50 for Shoulders, and $16 50 for Sides, loose, and clear Sides $20 50@21 closing dull and drooping. Green Meats being scarce, advanced to $15@15¼ for Shoulders, and 16¾@17¼c for Hams. Extra Lard Oil $2 05@$2 08, no charge for barrels. Whiskey advanced to $2 20, but closed dull and heavy, and we think $2 16 to $2 18 would be the best prices that could be obtained.

Boston Shoe and Leather Market.

As yet there is very little doing in the boot and shoe market except in the way of sorting up winter stock. The call for spring goods has not yet set in, and, aside from the imperative wants of consumers, it depends very much upon the course of political and military events when buyers will enter the market. One thing, however, may be regarded as quite certain, that work now being made up, if sales are to be remunerative, must command very high prices. Manufacturers are moving very cautiously, relying mostly upon orders, and will cut but very little stock till they see their customers and ascertain their precise wants. A good proportion of manufacturing facilities is steadily employed on army work.

The leather market is very firm, with a good consumptive demand for nearly all descriptions. The supply is taken fully as fast as received, and stocks on the whole are reduced. Hemlock sole is active, and overweights are in small supply and selling at about 1c advance Rough upper is in fair demand, especially tannages adapted to wax finish, which is in better request and a shade firmer. Oak leather is very scarce, owing to the army consumpton and the best grades of rough upper are some 3c higher. Rough and curried calfskins are also tending up.

Hemlock sole is selling at a range of 37@43c the outside figure for over weights. Oak do. at 52@58c for sides, and 57@60c for sides, at 57@60c for crop. Calcutta Buffalo is quiet at 33@35c. Rough Upper selling at 37@40c for Hemlock, and 45@50c for Oak. Rough Calfskins are in better demand at $1 10@1 25, for light and heavy; cured do., $1 50@1 60.—Bulletin.

Hog Products.

CINCINNATI.—The receipts of hogs on Saturday were quite light, not exceeding 1,000 head. This was caused principally by the heavy snow storm of Friday night, which delayed all the trains, and prevented any being driven in. The demand was good and rather exceeded the supply, and the market ruled quite firm at full prices. The whole range may be quoted at $15 50@16 25, and 200 lbs averages, at $16.

ST. LOUIS MARKET, Jan. 7.—The receipts are now very small, and but a few are reported on the railroad lines to come in. The demand is active, and we learn of purchases of several lots, comprising 1,000 to 1,200 head—part to arrive, at prices ranging from 12c to 12¼@12½c per lb, gross—extra heavy averages at the outside rate.

DETROIT MARKET, Jan. 7—DRESSED HOGS.—Market dull and a trifle lower, $15 25 being the highest paid. Sales 20, averaging about 200, at $14 80, and 80, averaging 225, at $15 25.

CLEVELAND MARKET, Jan. 7—DRESSED HOGS.—Packers are receiving all they can handle, and the market is firm at 14½@15c—very choice commanding a shade better than the outside figure.

New Orleans Cotton Market.

December 29.

The market opened this morning with some inquiry, but mostly by parties whose offers were below the views of holders, and the sales as far as reported, were confined to 64 bales, embracing 8 low middling, reboxed, at $1 12; 1 bale ordinary and 5 bales low middling at $1 13, round; 14 bales middling at $1 17, and 36 bales, 11 and 25, particulars not given. We hear, however, that $1 was offered and refused for strict ordinary held at $1 05, and that good ordinary sold at $1 08. At about the close it was stated that later news had been received, reporting a further improvement at New York, but the rumor did not appear to have any effect upon the market. We hear of 39 bales strict ordinary having been sold yesterday at $1 05.

Boston Fruit Market.

January 8.

The market for foreign dry fruit remains very firm at previous rates. New Figs continue to arrive very sparingly and realize full prices. The barque E. H. Yarrington has arrived from Smyrna with 27,000 drums and 865 cans Figs. Some 20,000 loose drums and 60 cans were sold before arrival at 15@17c in gold for loose drums and 22c for cans. Sales also of 2,500 loose drums at 31c currency. Malaga Raisins have been selling moderately at $5 85@5 90 for bunch and $6 15@9 20 for layers.—Bulletin.

Philadelphia Dry Goods Market.

The North American of Friday says: The dry goods market continues very dull, the difference in the views of buyers and sellers checking business; there is a firm feeling, however, on the part of holders generally, who are not disposed to press their stocks, which are very light for the season, on the market, and for all the leading styles of cotton goods prices are fully sustained and firm, and anything like the usual spring demand would put up the prices. The same may be said of woolens, which are also firmly held, with reduced stocks of all seasonable makes in the dealers' hands.

THE RIVER.—Last evening at twilight there were twelve feet water in the channel and rising. From the amount of rain that fell another flood may be expected.

THE fine packet, J. R. Gilmore, has changed her sign. She will load for Clarksville and Nashville, and will hereafter be in charge of Capt. R. W. Harton.

Mr. C. Marten has taken charge of the office of the steamer Champion, Captain F. Maratta, that leaves this day for Cincinnati. Passengers will find Mr. Marten both civil and accommodating.

THE fine passenger steamer Olive, Capt. J. M. Andrews, is fast filling up for Cairo and St. Louis. This boat has the best of accommodations, and is in charge of careful and attentive officers.

THE new and splendid passenger steamer Champion, in charge of Captain F. Maratta, is loading for Cincinnati and Louisville. This boat has unsurpassed accommodations and is in charge of as clever a set of officers as can be found.

Capt. John R. Eakin has purchased an interest in Capt. James Maratta's new steamer Anna, and takes charge of the office. We congratulate the owners in procuring the services of so competent an officer. We also congratulate our friend Eakin on his accession to so fine a packet that has for a commander so gentlemanly an officer as Captain James H. Maratta. The Anna will load for Cincinnati after the Champion.

PERILOUS POSITION.—About six o'clock on Thursday evening, it being very dark and smoky on the river, the Jeffersonville ferry boat John Shallcross was carried down on the falls and lodged in the Indian chute, near the breakers, or "back-bone." She was making her regular trip from Jeffersonville, full of mechanics and laborers, the most of them in the Government employ. The ferry boat, as far as we can learn, has received no injury, but cannot be got off until the river rises.

HO FOR THE OIL REGIONS.—The fleet side-wheel steamer Bayard, Capt. Saint, will leave for Parkersburg on Monday, at 11 a. m., on her first trip. She will leave Pittsburgh every Monday and Friday punctually at the hour advertised. This boat has unsurpassed accommodations and great speed. The advantage of such a packet to our merchants will be large. The first clerk is our old friend, Capt. D. Moore, an officer of large experience, pleasing address, and personally very popular. What he don't know about the packet trade is not worth learning.

THE fine new Gold Mine Packet, Deer Lodge, Captain Thos. W. Rea, is attracting a good share of attention. She was built under the superintendence of her commander, an officer who has had a large experience in that trade, having successfully commanded boats from St. Louis to Fort Benton. In the construction of this boat no expense has or will be spared. She will be one of the most complete boats ever constructed for that stream. The underwriters pronounce her hull the very best of her class. In a word, she is complete and is just such a boat as we expected to see built under the supervision of so experienced an officer as Capt. Thomas W. Rea. We shall refer to her again.

IN ORDER TO FURTHER

The design of the National Bank law, to provide a uniform currency, and to relieve this community from the loss incident to the circulation of depreciated bank notes, the following banks have agreed that on and after the 1st of February, 1865, they will pay out only such money as will be received at par on deposit and in payment of all debts due them. They will purchase from their customers all distant State bank notes, which they may receive in the regular course of business, at the net cost of sending them home for redemption, but will not receive such funds on deposit as "currency."

It is confidently believed that this arrangement will very speedily abolish the existing custom of keeping "currency accounts, and by sending home the great volume of State bank paper now in circulation here, give place to a better class of notes not subject to discount. To give full effect to this arrangement, the acquiescence and co-operation of the business community is respectfully solicited.

ARTIFICIAL LIMBS.

ARTIFICIAL LIMBS.—The best Patent Artificial Leg in the United States, and the only one in Pittsburgh, is made by

REICHENBACH,

No. 88 Fourth street, near Market street.

No other person in this city has a patent for Artificial Limbs. His Patent Leg resembles the natural limb in all its movements, as well as in appearance, and cannot be detected by an experienced eye. It met the approbation of the Army Board in Washington, January 12th, 1864, at which time a patent was granted the inventor. Parties in this city and elsewhere have attempted to imitate the patent, but have only produced worthless limbs.

Crutches can be dispensed with the first time the leg is worn. On horseback, it has the power and movements as when walking.

REICHENBACH also manufactures an ARTIFICIAL HAND, which is natural in appearance and movements, and when worn but a short time by those requiring them, are indispensable. je14-1y

GEO. A. PRINCE & CO.'S

NEW PATENT

AUTOMATIC ORGANS.

THESE NEW INSTRUMENTS ARE JUST now perfected and introduced to the public as the greatest triumph yet made in Musical Instruments. For the Church, School or Parlor, they have no equal. The quality of tone is pure, and comes nearer to that of the large Pipe Organ tone than any instrument yet produced.

During the past half century, the French and Germans have manufactured reed instruments with double bellows and two pedals for the feet to operate, but the want of the reversed or exhaustion bellows, (which is the only bellows used in our instruments,) made it impossible for them to produce the mellow, rich and musical tone for which our instruments are celebrated.

Another objection to this method of blowing was, that both feet being occupied, no opportunity was offered for the management of the swell. Within the past two years instruments constructed on the European plan of "double blowers," have been manufactured in this country, and to counteract this difficulty, (want of a swell,) a lever has been projected from the centre of the instrument to act upon the swell, and operated by the knee.

The inconvenience and contortion necessary to effect this object, are disagreeable enough to gentlemen, but to a lady the use of such an appendage is nearly impossible.

Our automatic device obviates this difficulty entirely, the simple act of blowing with more or less force, giving the desired increase or decrease in the volume of tone.

A liberal discount to Clergymen, Churches and Schools.
